SEMINARY'S HISTORY GIVEN BY DR. WENTZ

The Adams County Historical Society was told at its meeting Tuesday evening in the seminary "Old Dorm" it has already spent as much in recent renovation of the historic structure as was contemplated as the cost of the entire building when the contract for its construction was let in 1830.

Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, president emeritus of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, giving the first of two scheduled talks on the "History of Old Dorm," told the society that the contract price for the 100 by 40-foot, three-story brick, colonial design building was $7,750.

The report of the auditor, Russell A. Campbell, read at the meeting showed the Historical Society has spent $8,963.83 so far on its renovation work.

TELLS EARLY HISTORY

Dr. Wentz said, "Like most contracts today it didn't hold good because they wanted a number of changes made and so the final cost of the Old Dorm was $9,000."

The Historical Society is continuing its campaign for funds because "a great deal more" money will be needed to complete the reconstruction and renovation work to turn the building that once housed the entire seminary into quarters for displays of Adams County history.

A "walk out" by Philadelphia clergymen from general synod of Lutherans in the area resulted in the establishment of the seminary at Gettysburg instead of Philadelphia, Dr. Wentz said.

"In 1821 the Lutheran synods of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, New York and Ohio entered in a loose general synod with one enterprise—to train a ministry."

SOUGHT BY OTHERS

"In 1823 the Philadelphia group withdrew from the general organization. If they had stayed in a little longer this seminary would have been at Philadelphia because that group was the strongest and largest of the various units in the general organization."

"There was a reason for their withdrawal. They believed that this proposal to establish a seminary was a form of taxation on them."

Various sites were suggested for the proposed seminary. Dr. Wentz said, Carlisle offered $5,000 and the library and faculty of Dickinson College: Hagerstown bid $6,000 for the seminary. Frederick and York were other cities seeking the seminary.

"At the meeting held in Hagerstown to discuss the location of the seminary Gettysburg was suggested because of its central location geographically and its accessibility due to the network of highways meeting here. Gettysburg received six votes to three for Hagerstown on a second ballot."

PLAY REVIEWS GIVEN LEAGUE BY HOOD PROF

Dr. Beverly Canning, associate professor of English at Hood College, was the speaker at the meeting of the Gettysburg subleague of the Woman's League of Gettysburg College at the Student Union Building Tuesday afternoon.

Introduced by Mrs. Jack S. Locher, Dr. Canning spoke on "Broadway 1963," and "the tremendous contribution of drama to western civilization." She discussed the reasons for some of the recent "flops," including economic strain, union troubles, critics, high salaries, taxes and too critical audiences.

She said, "A play is not permitted to be mediocre these days as other forms of art are. Audiences expect perfection. We are too wedded to the star system and are not adventurous enough to give a chance to other plays and players. It was in the early 1920s that the American theater began to bloom." She discussed many plays of the current season, "A Man for All Seasons," considered the best foreign play last year; "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf," the funny, obscene first big hit of this season; "Natural Affection"; "Beyond the Fringe," the new British satire on contemporary life by four young men; "Never Too Late," and left over from the last season the popular and light "Mary, Mary."

3 NEW MEMBERS

Musicals she described were "My Fair Lady" which just completed a 6½-year run; "How to Succeed in Business" and "No Strings" with Diahanne Carroll. Some of this season's plays she recommended were "Mr. (Continued On Page 3)

KRAPE RELATES HISTORY OF ART TO ROTARIANS

A brief history of painting, from linear to "art of meditation," was outlined Monday evening by Ernest Krape, local artist, to the Rotary Club at its meeting in the WYCA.

He illustrated his talk with pictures of paintings starting with the representations of horses, bison-like animals, bulls, etc., found in a cave in France some 20,000 years ago. Made 20,000 to 25,000 years before Christ the paintings have retained their original coloration. After the caves were opened to the public it was found that the air was deteriorating some of the paintings, so the French government had the caves conditioned to control the humidity in order to save the paintings for posterity.

EARLY ART

He showed pictures of three groups of paintings made 4,000 to 8,000 years before Christ at an area now in the Sahara Desert. The first used linear painting—"making the men like match sticks with a head." The second group elaborated on the first and the third painted large murals of herds of horses and other animals.

"Making the next jump in the stream of painting we regrettably jump over the achievements of Egypt, China and Greece and go to the Sistine Chapel in Italy." He showed part of the work by Michelangelo. Displaying the portion of the huge painting depicting the creation of Adam, Krape observed that "no model could have posed for that picture."

State Report On Education

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Committee of One Hundred for Better Education formally recommended to Gov. Scranton today a $30 million increase in education spending this year and urged adoption of new taxes to pay the bill.

In a report of a year-long study presented to Scranton, the committee of private citizens and education experts estimated that the state's school bill will go up $500 million this year without any improvements.

Spending should be stepped up by $30 million, the committee said, to raise the annual minimum school subsidy from $5.80 to $6.40 per teaching unit and the starting teacher salary from $3,600 to $4,500 a year.

The report also called for reorganization of the state Council of Education, implementation of the School District Reorganization Law, development of public community colleges, creation of state scholarships and loans and a study of Pennsylvania's vocational and technical training program.

WU FESTIVAL IN SUB BALLROOM

The Student Christian Association of Gettysburg College is sponsoring a World University Festival on Thursday and Friday from 7:30-11 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Students, faculty members and their families and friends of the college are invited to see the booths constructed by campus groups to provide fun and entertainment. An auction on Friday night will terminate the festival.

All proceeds derived from the festival will be donated to the World University Service, a student-to-student program in which students in the United States and some 50 other countries throughout the world raise money to help students help themselves in the developing countries.

World University Service began in 1919 when a group of European students got together to help reconstruct European universities torn by the war and aid their fellow students. The program was expanded in 1948 into Asia, Africa and more recently to South America.

The emphasis of their work changed from primarily relief work to pilot projects and programs of long term significance such as student health services, dormitories, cafeterias and educational activities.

First runner-up was Miss Irene Mohr, 19, Breinigsville, Lehigh County. Second runner-up was Miss Denise Naugle, St. Thomas, Franklin County, a former resident of Adams County.

SESSIONS END TODAY

The banquet was the climax of the three-day annual meeting of the association, during which William M. Lott, Gardners R. 1, was re-elected president, and Mrs. Eleanor Griest, Flora Dale, was elected president of the women's auxiliary.

The 1962 state apple queen, Miss Joyce Ripley, Aspers, R. 1, thanked the association for "an exciting year," and former state queens attending the banquet were introduced. Adams County was represented by former state queens Mrs. Carolyn Snyder Lott and Mrs. Edna Jane Coble Hartzell.

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will publicly discuss the Kennedy administration's estimates of Soviet strength in Cuba on a radio-television broadcast today, the White House announced.

The broadcast was scheduled for 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. McNamara will head a group of Pentagon officials who will hold a news conference on the subject.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today barred shipment of U.S. government-financed cargoes on any ship which has been to Cuba since Jan. 1.

The long-expected order is aimed at discouraging free world ships engaging in trade with Cuba.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A fighter-bomber piloted by two U.S. Air Force officers crashed and exploded today on a raiding mission in Communist guerrilla territory.

The twin-engine Vietnamese air force plane plunged into jungle-covered mountains northeast of Saigon. Little hope was held that the two Americans—a major and a first lieutenant—and their Vietnamese observer survived.

April Election Likely In Canada After Commons Vote

By MAX HARRELSON

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada headed today for an election campaign based on close-to-home economic issues as well as the U.S.-Canadian nuclear weapon dispute which toppled Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservative government.

Diefenbaker's government was the second in nearly 100 years of Canadian confederation to be beaten down by a no-confidence vote in the House of Commons.

The prime minister was to call today on Gov. Gen. Georges Vanier, the required prelude to dissolving Parliament and setting an election date.

LIKELY ON APRIL 8

The election probably will be set for April 8.

Although the nuclear weapon dispute brought down the government, chief opposition leader Lester B. Pearson said he believes the major issue in the coming campaign will be the need for economic and social policies to stimulate "our national growth to the point where we'll be able to give employment to all who are willing and able to work."

Pearson, leader of the Liberal party, apparently was trying to tone down the defense issue. H. too, has been attacked for advocating that Canada live up to commitments to accept nuclear weapons and then negotiate to get rid of them.

CHARGE INTERFERENCE

Diefenbaker's Conservatives are certain to emphasize charges that the United States interfered in Canadian affairs by calling publicly on the government to accept nuclear weapons. They also are expected to accuse Pearson of taking orders from Washington, a charge the Liberal leader hotly denied when the Conservatives raised it in the nuclear weapon debate.

CLUB BOOSTS AFS PROGRAM IN COMMUNITY

Gettysburg Exchange Club Tuesday evening opened a drive for funds for the local branch of the American Field Service by hearing from Ana Maria Silva of Guatemala and purchasing 80 shares of the "international friendship and goodwill" fund of the AFS.

Monday the local branch of the American Field Service voted to ask community help to underwrite the cost of the student exchange program by asking members of service organizations to buy "goodwill shares" at 25 cents apiece. The Exchange club Tuesday became the first group to participate in the program which has been carried out so far by the local high school students.

Cost to bring an exchange student here is $700. Cost of sending on American abroad is $650. Gettysburg hopes to have two students here again next year if local support can be gained.

Miss Silva told the clubwomen Monday about the exchange program at the session in the Lamp Post Tea Room. She told them that "except for customs" she can find no difference between Guatemalans and citizens of the United States. She added that she likes the North American custom of having both boys and girls in the same school. In Guatemala the sexes are segregated from kindergarten on.

In addition, "in Guatemala when a woman is through school and gets married her husband expects her to stay at home and give up her career. Here it is different." Banana splits are food which "we have in Guatemala, but the specialists in making them live here." She added, "you are lucky to have snow. In Guatemala we have only two seasons—spring and summer."

Russell Kane reported at the meeting that 18 of the 30 booths have been rented for the Builders Show to be held March 28, 29 and 30 at the Hotel Gettysburg pressroom.

GUARDSMEN TO OBSERVE 'MUSTER DAY'

Adams County National Guard units plans to recreate a colonial period "Muster Day" on Lincoln Square at 7:30 p.m. Monday, February 18.

Captain Donald E. Doersom said the members of the Howitzer Battery of the 104th Armored Cavalry will appear dressed in clothing comparable to that worn in the early days of the community when the "Muster Day" for the men of the county was an annual event.

In addition to the present Guardsmen, all counts who have formally been members of the Guard unit are urged to join the present members for the special program.

NEED TRAINING NOW

The "Muster Day" practice began in the colonial days when all the men of an area gathered once each year for a roll call to determine the number of able bodied men available to bear arms in the event of an emergency. The National Guard is the modern successor to the old time militia units.

A master of ceremonies will announce over a loud speaker the February 18 events as the local guardsmen re-enact the muster day meeting of two centuries ago.

Capt. Doersom said: "Just as in the early days of the nation it was important to know which men can be counted on in an emergency, it is still important to know who will be available if needed. Only today it isn't enough just to stand up and be counted. In order to be effective a man must be trained in the military skill he would have to use in a time of crisis and he must know how to employ these skills as a member of a trained team. Today's citizen can get such training—both as an individual and a team—as a member of the National Guard."

MOOSE TO MEET

The Moose lodge will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the lodge on York St. A class of 11 is scheduled to be initiated at the meeting.

SEMINARY'S

"On September 5, 1826, the new seminary opened with services in the Union Church, what is now Trinity United Church of Christ at the corner of E. High and S. Stratton Sts. but then it was used jointly by the Reformed and Lutheran congregations.

QUARTERS CROWDED

"That same day, a committee was formed to seek a suitable site for construction of a new edifice for the seminary. Thaddeus Stevens was chairman of that committee.

"In 1827 Gettysburg College started. They don't know that out at the college. They think they started when they got their charter in 1932, but what has a charter to do with the beginning of an organization? There was need for training the young seminarians before they started their seminary studies and so in 1827 the Jacobs boys, Michael and David, were brought over from their home near Waynesboro to establish the gymnasium which later became Gettysburg College. The Jacobs ran the college and Simon Schmucker continued as the faculty and everything else of the seminary.

"By its third year the seminary had 23 students and the gymnasium perhaps 40 or 50 and the quarters were pretty well crowded.

FINISHED IN 1832

"The committee chose 20 acres of land extending from the Hagerstown road to the Chambersburg pike atop a ridge a mile west of the center of the town. Nicholas Pierce was the architect-contractor and the building was constructed. On May 26, 1831, the cornerstone was placed and the addresses were in both German and English. By June, 1832, the building was completed, with the basement and first two stories finished inside, while the third floor rooms were left unfinished.

"The rooms on the third floor were completed 27 years later." He described development of the seminary over the years including the construction of other buildings, the "tan path" from the town to the seminary building and the "turning around" of the seminary building in 1895, when land was bought in 1895 for the Battelfield and the battelfield avenue atop seminary ridge was constructed.

Dr. Charles Glatfelter, president of the historical society, displayed a board taken from above one of the doors during recent reconstruction work. One the back of the board was written "William J. Cook, foreman of carpenters, June 20, 1832." He also displayed artist's sketches of the Old Dorm made in 1843 and 1870.

REPORTS GIVEN

The report of Treasurer Frank Newcomer showed the society to have a balance of $3,967.31. A necrology prepared by Miss Nina Storrick was read showing 12 members of the society died during the last year. Dr. William C. Darrah reported on a number of accessions.

BUTLER BUYS AUSTIN GRADER FOR TWP. ROADS

Butler Twp. has purchased a new grader to help solve the problem of removing snow from township roads.

Meeting Monday evening at the Butler Twp. election house, the supervisors accepted the bid of L. B. Smith Inc., Harrisburg to furnish a nine-ton Austin Weston all-wheel drive, all-wheel steer motor grader for $17,147.

The grader will replace a 201 Galion grader which the township will sell to the highest bidder. Sealed bids are to be submitted to the supervisors and will be opened at their March 4 meeting.

In buying the new machine, the officials noted that one of the township's biggest problems has been snow removal and they felt "the only way to meet the problem was to get a machine that could do the job."

AIDS MAINTENANCE

James H. Sandoe, chairman of the supervisors, also said that the grader will not only take care of the township's snow removal problems in wintertime but also will help make more efficient the township's road maintenance and construction work. The supervisors added that they expect to pay for the machine without any increase in taxes.

AWARD BIDS

In preparation for the year's work the supervisors also awarded other bids at Monday's session. The Bethlehem Steel Co., Hanover, was low bidder for stone needed in road work. Roadite, Inc., York, presented the low bid to furnish bituminous materials and Service Supply Co., York, was low in the bids for concrete drainage pipe.

Chairman Sandoe presided at Monday's meeting. Others present included Supervisors Fred H. Taylor and Glen Tuckey; Secretary James M. McDannel; Auditors Fred Raffensperger and John S. Punt and Tax Collector George Phillips.

Highlights of former President Dwight Eisenhower's observations about another former President, Abraham Lincoln, are featured in TV Guide on sale today.

In the show Gen. Eisenhower offers his appraisal of Lincoln as the Civil War Commander-in-Chief, discusses his own war career and the burdens of the Presidency.

ENDORSE NEW "TOWN LOOK"

At its meeting Monday evening in the engine house, council adopted the following self-explanatory resolution.

"Whereas the historical significance of Gettysburg is world known, and whereas Gettysburg in its historical setting is visited yearly by people from far reaches of geography, and whereas the image that Gettysburg conveys to the world is of the Civil War era;

"And whereas Campaign Gettysburg is being conducted by public spirited citizens to recapture Gettysburg's historical image in a real sense of buildings and architecture, and whereas citizens of Gettysburg have been asked to cooperate in Campaign Gettysburg to recapture Gettysburg's historical image by alterations in building facades and in conforming with the architectural and aesthetic designs of Campaign Gettysburg;

"Now therefore be it resolved that the borough council does hereby place itself firmly and enthusiastically on record as being unanimously in sympathy with and in favor of the purposes and plans of Campaign Gettysburg to the extent that it strongly urges that all buildings, sidewalks, signs and other improvements within Gettysburg be made to conform with the architectural and aesthetic standards and plans of Campaign Gettysburg."

Here are questions and answers from the interview:

Q. The matter of the Soviet build-up in Cuba appears to be rushing toward an investigative crisis in Congress. Sen. Humphrey has suggested open hearings. Would you favor such hearings and would you be willing to appear before some investigating committee?

A. I would certainly favor open hearings but I think it should be left to the discretion of the Senate committee.

Q. Would you give such a committee any information you have as well as the sources of that information if the sources were held confidential?

A. They will call as witnesses, I am told, officials in the Defense Department and the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) and the State Department and they will have all of the information I have and a good deal more. I would be glad to confer with the members of that committee any time they wanted me to but I don't think it would be in the interest of anyone to have me as a witness because what I know is comparatively little compared to what they can get from these other witnesses.

Miss Sandra Eloise Remsburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Singleton E. Remsburg, Taneytown, was married Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to George Baumgardner Crouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Crouse, also of Taneytown. The double-ring ceremony was performed in the United Church of Christ, Taneytown, by Rev. William F. Wiley, pastor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Angelina taffeta with fitted bodice and long sleeves. The modified scalloped neckline was edged with pearl-embroidered Alencon lace. The front of the scissor-shaped skirt was adorned with garlands of Alencon lace and pearls. Two small taffeta bows accented the waistline in the back with a full skirt flowing into a chapel train. Her veil was of imported English illusion attached to a taffeta pill-box edged with seed pearls. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings and carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and variegated feather-carnations.

ATTENDED BY SISTER

She was attended by her sister, Carol Remsburg, who wore a street-length dress of valentine red peau taffeta with low neckline and cap sleeves and featuring an overskirt accented with a bow at the front waistline. The circle veil was attached to a pill-box red peau taffeta, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, variegated carnations and satin hearts.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Loretta Lieb, Keymar, Mary Wilhide and Mrs. Kenneth Crouse, Taneytown. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor.

Best man was Kenneth Crouse, Taneytown, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Thomas Winebrenner, Union Bridge; Lamar Hiltnerbrick, Langley Park, and Ronald Hopkins, Baltimore.

A reception was held in the social room of the church. The bride is a graduate of Taneytown High School and is a Senior at the Frederick Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Frederick. The bridegroom, also a graduate of Taneytown High School, is a Senior at the University of Maryland.

posed by the Social Credit and Liberal parties. Two deputies from the third opposition party, the New Democrats, voted with the government.

Both motions accused the Conservative government of indecision and failure to give a clear statement of national defense policy. The Social Credit motion also charged the government with failure to act on economic legislation approved by Commons.

CEZANNE INFLUENCE

"Cezanne was another who influenced painting more than others of his period of time. He came from a wealthy family and so he could paint as he pleased. He was the forerunner of the cubists. Recently one of his pictures sold for $616,000. He was a marvelous colorist; he knew what color to put against the next to get the feeling and effect he wanted. Van Gogh had a unit of rhythm no other painter has ever been able to match."

Krape concluded his talk by showing some of his own paintings, including one entitled "Gettysburg."

Richard Simpson, Gettysburg R. 5, was introduced as the Junior Rotarian for February. It was announced that the club will be host at a later date to an Ontario Rotary Club which plans to visit here. President Clark Smith reported the club has donated $200 more to Community Chest, making its total donation to the Chest $700. He also announced that the club will again assist the Warner Hospital Auxiliary in its annual rummage sale.

WITHEROW TO HEAD FIREMEN

The following officers were elected at the regular meeting of the Barlow Volunteer Fire Company Tuesday evening: President, John R. Witherow; vice president, Harold Yingling; secretary, John W. Schwartz; treasurer, George Lambert; chief, Bills totaling $157.60 were ordered paid. Action was taken to hold a benefit card party on March 12 for the Gettysburg Youth Center. Plans were also announced for the monthly card party to be held February 26.

Harold Yingling was appointed chairman of that event.

The retiring president, Harry Maring, appointed the following auditors: Lester Spangler, David Reaver and Hayward McCleaf.

The dates for the annual carnival were set for August 16 and 17. James Millhimes and Frank Maring were appointed to the refreshment committee for the next meeting on March 5.

Out Of The Past

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Pastor Accepts Call: The Rev. Herbert Schmidt, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran Church since November, 1934, has accepted a call to the Woodboro, Maryland, Lutheran charge, it has been announced. The Woodboro charge comprises four churches. The Mt. Joy assignment was the first assignment of the Rev. Mr. Schmidt after his graduation from the Lutheran Theological Seminary here. He also is a graduate of Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove.

Rev. Dickson Wed: The Rev. John Dickson, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Dickson, Orrtanna R. D., and Miss Alice McCollum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clyde McCollum, were united in marriage Tuesday at high noon in the Morningside Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Ga. The Rev. Mr. Dickson is pastor of that church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William C. Robinson, member of the faculty of Columbia seminary at Decatur, Georgia, a former pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church. After the ceremony the couple left for Florida on a wedding trip. The Rev. Mr. Dickson attended Gettysburg high school and college and after graduating from Columbia Seminary at Decatur accepted a call to the Morningside church.

Miss Norma Bierer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bierer, Baltimore St., has enrolled as a student nurse at the Mt. Sinai hospital, New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Bierer accompanied their daughter to New York.

Elmer Clayton Livingston, 66, owner of the Livingston Shoe Factory, New Oxford, died this morning at 7:10 o'clock at his home in New Oxford from a complication of diseases. For the last 40 years he owned and operated the factory which bears his name. He was a member of the First Lutheran Church and a director of the Farmers and Merchants Bank. Mr. Livingston was a thirty-second degree Mason. Surviving are his widow, the former Elsie Wind; and three children, Richard, Fred and Sarah, all of New Oxford.

Noon Day Robberies: Two daring noon-hour robberies were committed in Center Square Friday, one of which was not discovered for more than four hours, and an attempt was made to enter a third office, Gettysburg borough police reported today. Forcing open a door to the inner district office of Dr. Ralph Wickerham, on the second floor of the First National Bank building, a thief ransacked three unlocked desk drawers and took $35 in dimes and a double-lens magnifying glass estimated to be worth from $15 to $20. Dental gold and valuable instruments in other unlocked drawers were untouched. The other robbery occurred in the office of the state highway department on the third floor of the Stalmsmith building. There a key was apparently used to gain entrance to the offices by the thief who removed from $10 to $12 in postage stamps from an unlocked filing cabinet. The theft of the stamps was not discovered until 5 o'clock in the afternoon when office clerks prepared outgoing letters for mailing. Investigating the Wickerham theft, officers found marks on the outer door leading to the law offices of Keith and Bigham, Esqs., also on the second floor of the bank building, indicating that an attempt had been made to gain entrance there by trying to force the door.

Crane Move Today: The Rev. and Mrs. Frederick B. Crane and daughter, Helen Virginia, moved from the Presbyterian parsonage on East High Street to their new home in Hazleton today. The Rev. Mr. Crane has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of Hazleton.

RESERVE

The longer I live the more is the idea of a certain reserve impressed upon my mind as the great asset which becomes really important is the rounding out of a life.
Youth thinks little of this for nature has always been lavish and has endowed it with a superabundance of reserve, as far as physical strength is concerned, but maturity alone is able to appreciate the value of a reserve philosophy, and ripe outlook.
A mere money reserve is insufficient, as hundreds of thousands of money savers have all too well learned.
It is a glorious experience to be able to fall back upon one's friends, ever in the reserve against disappointment, or loss. And if one's mind has been continually enriched over the years, how that accumulated knowledge holds one instead, I look to my books as old friends indeed — that have never failed me, and they grow more valuable in their giving as each year is added to my life. With them has been bequeathed to me a rich reserve in thoughts.

Years and happiness are both snatched from the man or woman who persistently refuses to rest, relax — and build up a reserve. It is not well to presume too much on the silent man — he usually holds a wealth of reserve! Thinking people always do.

All great art is impressive because of what it has kept back — in reserve.

When we are sorely put to the test, these reserves of ours demonstrate more than anything else. Our standards loom as we have appraised them, and what we are in mind and heart is unmistakable — for people understand from the very look in our eyes!

SIMILARITY OF WIVES

Said I unto my neighbor: "Is your wife the proper kind?
Does she kick you 'neath the table when you're going to speak your mind?"

Does she criticize your raiment; think you've dreadful choice of ties?"

"Yes," he answered, "and she praises the wild stuff her brother buys."

"Does your wife," again I questioned, "clean the house from day to day?"

Is it always stuff you're saving that she seems to throw away? When your favorite suit has vanished, does she tell you where it's gone?"

"No," he answered, "but I spot it when I meet her brother John."

"Does your wife," I dared to wonder, "wish a gentleman you'd be?"

Does she give you certain orders when you're going out to tea? Does she tell you whom to speak to and the proper things to say?"

"Yes," my neighbor sadly answered, "in a most emphatic way."

"Does your wife take all the closet and leave you a single hook? For your other pair of trousers you do often have to look?"

"Yes," my neighbor muttered glumly, "that's my Jennie to a T!"

"Well, what's happening at your house happens every day to me."

Score Action of Citizens: Echoes of the special parking meter session of council two weeks ago were heard Monday evening when Councilman J. Price Oylar took the floor shortly before midnight to denounce the "ungentlemanly" conduct of the 100 or more local citizens who appeared at that session to protest the erection of parking meters. "They were here by the courtesy of council," Oylar declared and directed that his feelings about the manner in which the citizens behaved be recorded in the minutes. "When they applauded it was a slap in the mouth to me. I don't know how you other fellows felt about it," he said. With the subject before them once more several councilmen commented. Clyde Berger said "the general public is turning for the parking meters more every day." C. W. Epley said that people who are opposed to the meters do not understand the manner in which they operate.
"I have material right here that will convince any businessman that parking meters are the thing for Gettysburg," he declared as he exhibited a book of letters, photographs and newspaper articles about the meters in "cities and towns of all sizes."

Sen. Hawbaker Offers Bill To Make Rainmaking Illegal

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rainmaking in Pennsylvania would become illegal under a new Senate bill.

The measure (S89), introduced Monday, stemmed from a whirlwind of controversy stirred during last summer's drought by a Franklin County farmer who sowed rain clouds with chemicals to drench his parched orchards. The farmer hired a professional firm to do the seeding and a few days later other farmers held a protest meeting complaining that the rain was being funneled into the first farmer's acreage.

HAS BACKING

A subsequent rain storm reversed the situation and the farmers complained that the seeding brought too much rain. Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin, introduced the bill to ban chemical seeding of clouds under a penalty of a $100 fine. Co-sponsors were Sens. Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford, and Albert E. Madigan, R-Bradford. The bill was one of several introduced in a light session of the Senate.

1ST BILL PASSES

The Senate passed the first bill of the 1963 session, a minor measure making technical changes in the legislative journal, the daily record of the General Assembly. It was sent to the House on a vote of 49-0.

Sens. M. Harvey Taylor, R-Dauphin, and George N. Wade, R-Cumberland, co-sponsored a bill (S92) to provide cost-free additional pensions to state employees. Any employee with more than five years of service would receive an additional $25 monthly pension upon retirement; ten-year employees would receive $50 a month over their regular pensions.

TALK ABOUT PROSPECTS FOR FRICK'S JOB

BY JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—For the past few months, there have been persistent reports, some from high places in baseball, that Ford Frick plans to retire as commissioner of baseball and, for the remaining three years of his relinquished contract, go on a $25,000 annuity.

The rumors of his impending retirement have traced back to Frick himself.

"I am fully aware of the reports that have me walking out of here," Frick said. "But the truth is I have no immediate plans to retire. There is still a lot of unfinished work to be done. If and when I decide to retire, I will announce it to everybody."

HE'S 68 NOW

Frick, who reached his 68th birthday last Oct. 19, will be nearing 71 when his term expires in September of 1965. He already has stated emphatically he will not stand for re-election.

The names most frequently mentioned for the role of the next baseball commissioner are Joe Cronin, popular president of the American League; E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, vice president of the Los Angeles Dodgers; and Judge Robert Cannon, legal advisor to the major league players.

A majority of the major league club owners, whose power it is to hire and fire commissioners, believe the next head man should be chosen from the ranks. Some, however, feel it might be wise to name a man not officially connected with the game. They prefer a man with a political or judicial background, someone like former Vice President Richard Nixon, or a Judge Cannon, for example.

ON PROSPECT LIST

Because of the demands of the position and the increasingly complex decisions to be faced, many feel the next commissioner must have youth on his side. Of the leading candidates suggested, for the $75,000-a-year position, Cronin is 56, Judge Cannon is 45, Bavasi 47 and Nixon 49.

Frick, who was 56 when he first took office in 1951, refused to be drawn into any conversation regarding his eventual successor.

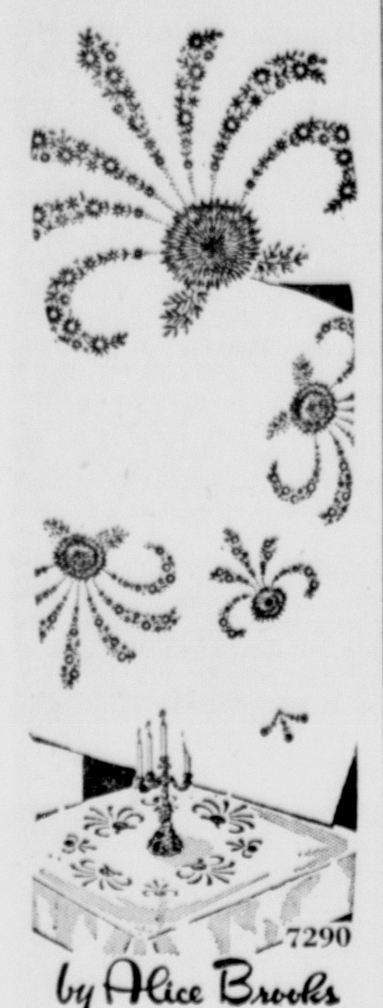

Clay Second In New Ring Ratings

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Machen, the long-time No. 1 heavyweight contender, has been removed temporarily from top 10 in the February boxing ratings by Ring Magazine.

As a result of the ailing Machen's elimination, former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson was promoted from second to first and undefeated Cassius Clay of Louisville was elevated from fifth to second in the rankings released today.

Doug Jones of New York, who meets Clay in New York March 13, moved up to No. 3 while Sveen's Ingemar Johansson was elevated from sixth to fourth. Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., who was knocked out by Jones, was dropped from third to sixth.

NICKLAUS IS FAVORITE IN PHOENIX OPEN

By CARL EELL

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus will be one of the big favorites in the $35,000 Open golf tournament, starting Thursday, and therein lies proof of what a great change one short year can make in a young man's life.

When the blond youngster hauled his massive 200-pound frame into the Arizona desert country for this tourney 12 months ago, he was a neophyte pro of only three months.

He had averaged $250 a week in his first five tournaments, pretty fair wages for most folks, but he had yet to collect a really large check.

AMONG BIG 3

He cashed his first big one—$2,300—by finishing in a four-way tie for second at Phoenix and in a few fast months was named with veterans Arnold Palmer and Gary Player as golf's "big three."

Jack the giant's official winnings last year totaled $81,668, topped only by Palmer and Gene Littler. By adding $51,064 in unofficial but very cashable checks—including $50,000 for beating Palmer and Player in the world series of golf—Nicklaus topped them all in over-all dough for play with $132,933.59.

Nicklaus also whipped Palmer in a playoff for the U.S. Open championship and just two days ago routed Player in an extra round for $9,000 top money at Palm Springs.

mis collected 21 points and 24 rebounds in George Washington's 81-69 Southern Conference victory over VMI; Clemson won its fifth in a row, clouting South Carolina 80-61 in the Atlantic Coast Conference; and Richmond ended a losing streak at six games by knocking off Loyola of New Orleans 64-56.

Other scores — Bradley 78, Creighton 60; St. Joseph's, Pa., 82, Mount St. Mary's 60; Cornell 80, Syracuse 71.

Dave Francis, Ohio State full-back, netted 418 yards to lead the Big Ten in rushing last season. The Senior averaged 5.6 yards per carry.

MARINES WILL TAKE SPECIAL 50-MILE HIKE

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—At President Kennedy's suggestion, 20 Marine officers will attempt a 50-mile hike next week—to see if they can move forward with the vigor demanded of Leathernecks by President Theodore Roosevelt.

The unusual military exercise, to be conducted at Camp Lejeune, N.C., stemmed from the recent discovery of a long-forgotten executive order in which Roosevelt prescribed fitness standards for Marine officers.

Gen. David M. Shoup, the Marine commandant who shares Kennedy's interest in fitness, sent the 54-year-old document to the President as an historic curiosity.

Kennedy decided, however, that it was more than a curiosity. He responded with a proposal that Shoup find out "how well our present-day officers perform the tests specified by President Roosevelt."

DETAILED DIRECTIVE

In a matter of hours, Marine headquarters prepared a detailed directive ordering a test by officers of the 2nd Marine Division at Camp Lejeune.

At least 10 captains and 10 lieutenants, selected to provide a representative sample of personnel, will take the test, Shoup warned they should not be told about the experiment in advance.

Once the officers are assembled, they will get these marching orders:

Walk 50 miles in no more than three days, with actual walking time and rest stops limited to 2 hours. Shoup noted, rather pointedly, that some officers of 1908 covered the course in a single day.

Upon reaching the final half-mile, the officers must double-time 200 yards, rest for 30 seconds, then double-time for 300 yards, rest a minute, and wind up with a 200-yard dash to the finish line.

Actually, this could be more than a test of Marine vigor. The entire White House staff may have a stake in the results—particularly Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary.

As Kennedy noted in his letter to Shoup, Theodore Roosevelt "laid down such requirements not only for the officers of the Marine Corps but, when possible, for members of his own family, members of his staff and Cabinet, and even for unlucky foreign diplomats" who were dragged into hiking with him through Washington's Rock Creek Park.

The President told Shoup that if the test indicates "that the strength and stamina of the modern Marine is at least equivalent to that of his antecedents, I will then ask Mr. Salinger to look into the matter personally and give me a report on the fitness of the White House staff."

WILL REFORM N.Y. BOXING

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Professional boxing will be continued in New York State, probably with reforms.

That decision it was learned today, has been reached by a majority of the members of a legislative committee assigned to determine whether boxing should be abolished in the state.

The decision has the backing of the Republican legislative leaders, who have the final say on what bills come before the senate and assembly. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has left the decision up to the legislature, which will accept the decision of the committee.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Professional Boxing was formed by the legislature last year after the death of Benny (Kid) Paret in a welterweight title fight in Madison Square Garden. The death brought a renewal of the outcry, heard periodically in the state, that there was no room in modern civilization for a sport like boxing.

PAPER STRIKE DEBATE ASKED

CLEVELAND (AP)—Editor Louis B. Seltzer of the Cleveland Press and News challenged leaders of the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild Tuesday to a "no-holds-barred" public debate on the issues in the 63-d y-old strike that has shut down the city's two daily newspapers.

The guild, one of five unions striking against the Press and News and the Plain Dealer, promptly accepted Seltzer's proposal.

With five unions now on strike, bargaining activity has increased. The Machinists Union, representing 14 employees at the two papers, Monday joined the picket lines set up Nov. 29 by the Teamsters Union. Three other unions out of a total of 12 at the two papers are picketing.

SPAIN HEDGES ON RENEWING BASES TO U.S.

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Reliable sources indicate the United States is having difficulty getting negotiations started for renewal of the U.S.-Spanish aid-for-bases pact expiring in September.

These sources said there has been trouble in arranging desired interviews with Spanish officials for U.S. Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric, scheduled to arrive Feb. 14 for a four-day visit to kick off the defense treaty talks.

"Four top Spanish officials Gilpatric wanted to see have indicated they expect to be out of town or otherwise unavailable during his visit," one authoritative source reported.

There is speculation among observers here that Gilpatric may postpone or cancel his visit unless the Spanish officials become more cooperative.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman would say only that the Spanish government has been asked to draft a schedule for Gilpatric's visit and has not replied. Spanish official sources said they knew of no difficulties and that presumably a schedule would be available after a meeting of Franco's Cabinet Friday.

The reported difficulties in arrangements for Gilpatric contrasted sharply with official Spanish statements that Gen. Francisco Franco's government is anxious to renegotiate the defense pact "without asking for the moon and on the basis of a firmer friendship with the United States."

Warriors Handed Stunning Jolt By Panthers 37-32; Shippensburg Here Friday

Gettysburg High School's championship hopes in the Blue Mountain Basketball League received a crushing blow here Tuesday evening when East Pennsboro pulled a stunning upset in downing the Warriors 37-32 to avenge a 66-42 lacing at Enola during first half play.

The Warriors gave a shabby performance throughout and led only four time by one-point margins. East Pennsboro, playing a particularly aggressive game under the boards, led as much as by 12 points at 20-7 after 2:45 of the second quarter.

Gettysburg dropped behind 5-2 early in the game but moved ahead 8-5 on a jump shot by Rick Jones and a pair of free tosses by Eddie Tilberg after 4:05 of the initial period. They trailed from then on until gaining a 25-24 lead at the end of the third frame.

VISITORS PULL AWAY

With 2:04 left in the first quarter Tilberg made his third foul line shot as East Pennsboro led 9-7. The Panthers then reeled off 11 straight points for a 20-9 lead midway in the second quarter before Eddie Ziegler broke the scoring famine for the Warriors with a goal. A goal and pair of fouls by Bob Dietz, another foul by Ziegler and a side shot by Gary Nelson slashed the visitors' lead to 22-16 at half time.

Jerry Solits, who led the Panthers with 13 points, scored on a lay-up right after the final half got started and then East Pennsboro encountered a dry run as it failed to score the remainder of the quarter. Meanwhile local fans envisioned victory as the Warriors reeled off nine straight points on goals by Nelson, Johnny Longenecker, Deitz, a pair of fouls by Nelson and a foul by Rick Jones, for a 25-24 edge entering the last quarter.

Tom Fry and Deitz traded goals in the first minute of the nip and tuck last frame. Solits made a three-point play for the Panthers before Deitz' long heave knotted the score at 29-29. Fry sank a foul toss for the visitors and Nelson hit from the side to give Gettysburg its last lead at 31-30 with 5:36 left.

Charley Diller and Rick Jones traded fouls. Tom Fry broke the stalemate with a goal after 5:25 minutes of play had elapsed. The Warriors began to press to gain possession of the ball and the inevitable fouls resulted with Diller looping two and Solits one to clinch the decision.

Earl Little's reserves were outshot from the floor 14-7 but converted 17 of 27 fouls as compared to but 2 of 5 for East Pennsboro and eked out a 31-30 triumph in a hotly contested preliminary game.

The Warriors will entertain Shippensburg here Friday evening in another league double-header.

CANNERS JOLT SHIPPENSBURG FOR 61-42 WIN

A stunning first half exhibition carried the Biglerville Cannery to a 61-42 win over Shippensburg and sent the Upper Adams school into a four-way tie for second place in the second half of the Blue Mountain League standing. The game was played before a thrill packed crowd at Biglerville.

Three Cannery landed double figures as they took a commanding 20-point lead at intermission. Jumping to a 17-6 lead in the first period, Biglerville increased it to 37-11 at the half. Shippensburg's defense started to click and the scoring picked up in the second half as the Greyhounds outscored Biglerville 25-24, but the Cannery were too much in command.

Phil Pitzer and Dick Guise shared the honors with 16 tallies each while Bob Garretson netted 11. Beedle and Shealer topped the visitors with nine points each. The Biglerville jayvees dropped their 10th verdict in 14 outings as Shippensburg walked off with the preliminary tilt by the tune of 36-25.

Biglerville (9-6) will tangle with Susquehanna Friday evening in Biglerville in another conference clash.

REDS AND ACES ARE TIE AT TOP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Providence Reds, knocked out of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Hockey League, have regained a share of the top spot with the Quebec Aces.

The Reds gained the tie in the most direct way Tuesday night, beating the Aces 4-1 on Quebec's home ice. In the other AHL game scheduled Tuesday the Baltimore Clippers ended Cleveland's two-game winning streak 3-1.

Goalie Ed Gioacchini, who made 43 saves, starred in Providence's victory. The only Quebec goal came late in the second period when Skippy Burchell rammed the puck home. Dan Poliziani scored two of Providence's goals as the Reds made good on four of only 27 shots against Charlie Hodge in the Quebec cage. The Reds and the Aces each have 36 points with Providence holding the most victories, 26-23.

Mount Collapses In Last Half As St. Joseph's Wins 82-60; Face Catholic Five

After holding the powerful St. Joseph's College cagers to a 30-28 advantage at half time, the Mt. St. Mary's outfit fell apart in the second half and bowed to the Hawks 82-60 at Philadelphia Tuesday evening.

The setback gives the Mountaineers an overall 6-8 record while St. Joseph's boosted its mark to 15-3.

In the first half the Mount fell behind 16-7 after eight minutes of play but surged back with a strong rally led by John O'Reilly to slash the gap to 25-24 with two minutes left. Ed Walsh then hit on a long shot for St. Joseph's but John Carroll and Dave Malone countered with goals to tie the score at 28-28. A 20-foot jump shot by Steve Courtin just before the half time buzzer enabled the Hawks to gain the lead.

MSM ATTACK FAILS

St. Joseph's landed seven straight points, five by Joe Kelly and a pair of fouls by Courtin, to open the second half before Bill McDermott hooked in a shot for the Mount. Suddenly the Mount attack bogged down and the Hawks shot their lead to 48-33 and from then on the outcome was settled.

O'Reilly was high man for Mt. St. Mary's with 24 points and turned in a brilliant game under the boards with 18 rebounds. John Tiller and Jim Boyle collected 20 and 15 points, respectively, for the winners.

Mt. St. Mary's has two important games coming up, meeting Catholic University at Washington, D.C., Thursday evening after which it tangles with arch rival Loyola of Baltimore Saturday evening at Emmitsburg.

CLAIM EVERY SHIP ROUTE TO CUBA WATCHED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authorities said Tuesday every ship route into Cuba is watched by patrol planes and the Navy feels sure no vessels have slipped into Cuban ports undetected since the blockade.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., implied last week that two Soviet vessels which arrived in Cuba recently may have eluded surveillance. One of them unloaded arms, he said.

Keating said these ships followed a "maximum security route" which he said passed through areas "where the United States is least able to maintain adequate surveillance."

Usually reliable Navy sources, preferring to remain anonymous, said Keating probably is referring to a ship route entering the Caribbean between Venezuela and Puerto Rico.

MAY ELUDE U.S.
These sources did not dispute that ships steaming this route might sometimes pass beyond the area covered by U.S. patrol planes.

But they said such vessels would be sighted—no matter how roundabout their route into the Caribbean—when approaching the few Cuban deep water ports.

Navy patrols fly day and night surveillance missions from Jacksonville, Fla., Key West, Fla., the Guantanamo naval base on the eastern end of Cuba, and from Puerto Rico. This, the Navy says, gives complete coverage of the waters around Cuba. The planes carry night vision infrared cameras.

Also on watch is a sizable force of Navy ships, plus units of the Coast Guard.

SHIPS NUMBER SECRET
The Defense Department has refused on security grounds to say how many vessels have anchored in Cuban ports since the blockade was lifted last Nov. 20, or to identify nationalities of such ships.

Last Thursday the Pentagon broke this rule to say that two large Soviet ships arrived in Cuba some days earlier and that "there is no evidence that either carried offensive weapons." This statement came after Keating made a Senate speech claiming a continued and growing Soviet arms buildup in Cuba.

The Navy does not claim it can tell whether incoming vessels carry arms — but officers say they would know a missile-carrier when they saw one.

STRIKE BRINGS HIKE IN FARES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Residents of Philadelphia, whose transit facilities recently were idled by a 19-day strike, found something new had been added to subway, bus and trolley rides Tuesday.

The innovation was a two-cent cash fare increase.

The Public Utility Commission in Harrisburg Monday gave the Philadelphia Transportation Co. authority to put the new fare schedule into effect, but maintained that the action was not final.

Additional hearings into the fare increase are scheduled here Thursday and Friday. The final order is expected to come following the hearings.

The increase approved by the PUC would raise PTC revenues an estimated $3,871,000 a year. The company had sought a $4,766,000 a year hike.

Under the new schedule cash fares were raised from 23 to 25 cents and tokens from 21 to 23 1/2 cents. Tokens are now three for 70 cents instead of five for $1.05.

The 8 1/2 cent school fare remained unchanged.

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the Soviet Union signed a new three-year agreement Tuesday providing for a trade exchange totaling between $670 million and $700 million in the next three years.

Voice Of America Is Getting Louder
GREENVILLE, N.C. (AP)—The Voice of America is getting louder. On Friday it dedicates with fanfare a $23-million installation whose massive transmitters are said to be 96 times as powerful as the strongest American commercial radio station.

The 400-foot steel antennas tower over a 6,000-acre site in the heart of North Carolina's tobacco land. Tests of its power have brought reports of strong signals from such widespread points as Buenos Aires, Leopoldville and Belgrade.

EX-DIRECTOR OF BUDGET TO SCAN JFK BID

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Republicans have enlisted former Budget Director Maurice H. Stans for what they call a scientific attempt to cut President Kennedy's $98.8-billion budget.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Stans is expected to "take a good hard look" at the budget and come up with specific targets at which Republicans of both houses can aim.

A former California banker and a big game hunter, Stans is no stranger to government deficits. When he took over as budget director in March 1958, then President Dwight D. Eisenhower had already sent to Congress a $80.3-billion budget which wound up $12.4 billion in the red.

But Stans produced the following year a $76.5-billion budget with a $1.2-billion surplus — the first since fiscal year 1957. He wound up with an $81.5-billion fiscal 1961 budget which brought a $3.8-billion deficit.

Republicans generally think Kennedy has handed them a ready-made issue for 1964 with the largest peace spending program in history, tagged with a prospective $11.9-billion excess of outlays over revenues.

They believe they can imprint in the voters' minds their "party of fiscal responsibility" slogan if they can get enough help from conservative Democrats to make any effective cuts in spending.

Their trouble has been that they find it politically difficult to carve the $35.4-billion defense request, a $4.2-billion space program and more than $5 billion for veterans. They concede there is nothing they can do about the nearly $10 billion required for interest on the national debt.

Stans was reported to have told leaders in preliminary conferences he thinks defense outlays could be cut back $3 billion without impairing security. But he reminded the Republicans of the political risks involved in any such action.

BONDING FIRM WILL RECEIVE HOFFA TRADE

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's reported bonding problems, apparently were solved Monday when an Indianapolis bonding firm announced it will write 95 per cent of the surety bonds covering Hoffa and other national and local officers of the union.

Frank Wright Sr., president of United Bonding Co., told reporters here that his firm will issue bonds up to its capacity of $60,000 per person and will seek reinsurance elsewhere for anyone needing bond in excess of that amount.

Hoffa charged last week that the Justice Department was exerting pressure on bonding companies to prevent them from insuring Teamsters' funds. Later, however, he told a congressional committee that he had no firsthand knowledge of this.

Present bonds of Hoffa and fellow Teamsters officers expire Friday and Hoffa said he might be forced to shut down all union financial activities since the Landrum-Griffin Act requires union officials to post bond covering 10 per cent of all funds they handle, if the funds exceed $5,000 a year.

Fishway Dams To Be Discussed

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has called a meeting for Friday to discuss the feasibility of constructing fishways on dams on the Susquehanna River.

Joseph H. Manning Jr., chairman of the Maryland Board of Natural Resources, said Monday that interested state officials from New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland have been invited to attend the meeting here.

Manning also appointed a four-member board subcommittee to study a report proposing the construction of fishways on the Conowingo Dam and other dams on the Susquehanna.

Manning said the Federal Power Commission and the Pennsylvania Fish Commission have requested the views of the board on the proposals set forth in the engineering report.

LT. GOVERNOR NOT WORRIED ABOUT FUTURE

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
HARRISBURG (AP) — Few of Pennsylvania's lieutenant governors have risen to political fame following their tenure in that office, but the current occupant, Raymond P. Shafer, shows no concern over this fact.

Shafer knows the position is commonly compared with that of the vice presidency—nice to have, but offering very little in the way of future political success.

ONLY ONE SUCCEEDED
In fact, some cynics have suggested the office is a certain step to political oblivion.

Shafer doesn't buy this. And at age 45, he is far from ready for the political graveyard, although he does not discuss any future ambitions he may hold.

But the fact remains this since the adoption of the present state constitution in 1874, only one lieutenant governor later has served as chief executive of the Commonwealth.

That was Arthur H. James, lieutenant governor from 1927-31, governor from 1939 to 1943.

SOME HAVE TRIED
In recent years, two lieutenant governors have made strong overtures for the top job.

Lloyd Wood was the Republican candidate for governor in 1954, but he lost to George M. Leader. Four years later, Roy Furman, Leader's lieutenant governor, fought for the Democratic nomination, but lost it to David L. Lawrence, who then was elected.

Shafer may be cognizant of this political history, but he apparently isn't worried about how it affects him and his future in politics.

"I'm not one of those people who has a grand design," he said in an interview. "I want to make my contribution to the Commonwealth in what ever way I can."

firm would provide the bonds, Hoffa was meeting with Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds. Hoffa offered to post $500,000 in cash or securities with the Labor Department as evidence of good faith.

If this offer had been rejected, Hoffa said, the Teamsters planned to seek an injunction against enforcement of the bonding requirement, on the ground the Landrum-Griffin law is unconstitutional or at least unenforceable in the Teamsters' case.

Driver Is Killed In Head-on Collision

EPHRATA, Pa. (AP)—A tractor-trailer and a truck crashed head-on today, spreading 150 gallons of flaming gasoline across Route 222 near here and fatally injuring one of the drivers.

The dead man, driver of the tractor-trailer and identified from papers he carried as Fred Portington, of Sayreville, N. J., died in a hospital about two hours after the accident.

Traffic was blocked for about an hour. Authorities said it had not been learned whether the other driver, as yet unidentified, was injured.

No Jobless Pay For PTC Strikers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The state Bureau of Employment Security has rejected unemployment claims by 5,600 Transport Workers who struck the Philadelphia Transportation Co. for 19 days.

The bureau said Monday the strike was an "industrial dispute" and not a lockout as the union had claimed. Only the 358 clerical workers laid off during the walk-out were eligible for benefits, the bureau said.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Joseph P. Dougherty, 77, a Wyoming Valley physician for over 50 years, died today in Mercy Hospital.

Dr. Dougherty, a resident of Ashley, was admitted to the hospital Monday as a medical patient. Funeral services will be held Friday.

APPEALS FOR STATE RIGHTS AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett sounded what he termed a clarion call for states rights Monday night before a polite, frequently applauding audience here.

Barnett was the chief speaker at the Harvard Law School Forum. About two dozen pickets protested his appearance as a police car drove him to the theater at Harvard.

Officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People pleaded for an "orderly, integrated audience."

An estimated 25 Negroes were in the audience of 1,500. The Harvard campus became his forum when Cambridge city officials refused to let him speak at the Rindge Technical High School, which has a heavy Negro enrollment.

POLITE AUDIENCE
The audience, composed mainly of Harvard law students, was polite and applauded frequently during Barnett's 15-page speech.

Barnett sounded a "clarion call for the states to come to their own defense and obtain a restoration of constitutional government."

He did not touch on the case of James H. Meredith, the 29-year-old Negro whose entrance into the University of Mississippi touched off riots on the university campus last September. Two men

Women Offered Police Whistles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Women who work evenings were offered free police whistles Monday by the American Legion.

Daniel Burkhardt, state adjutant of the Legion, said the whistles would be given to the first 100 women visiting the Legion office in Baltimore's War Memorial Building.

There have been several recent attacks on women walking at night.

PA. REVENUE DISAPPOINTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Scranton administration says last month's revenues were about $5.6 million below estimates.

The governor's office of administration reported Monday the decline in receipts was due to sales and use tax and inheritance tax collections that were unexpectedly low.

A total of $70,132,000 was collected in taxes during January against an estimate of $75,730,000—a 1.5 per cent difference in actual receipts, the report said.

The office of administration, citing a report from the revenue department, added that total collections during the first seven died and dozens were injured in the riots.

But Barnett held that education, voting rights and housing are in the field of local affairs.

ADMITS THEFT OF UNION FUND

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank H. Mykalo of Scranton, Pa., former vice president of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers of America, pleaded guilty Monday to the charges of conspiring to embezzle $35,000 of union funds.

A federal indictment, returned last November, accused Mykalo of conspiring with James G. Cross, the union's former president, and two other former vice presidents, Lester P. Crawford of St. Louis and Frank D. Gardone of McKees Rocks, Pa., to embezzle the money.

The alleged conspiracy was described in the indictment as part of a scheme to cover up another shortage which has been charged to Cross.

Cross, of Boca Raton, Fla., has been indicted on charges of taking the original $35,000 for use in an unsuccessful attempt to fix a 1959 trial in which he was accused of perjury. That case ended in a directed verdict of acquittal. Prosecutors said there was no evidence that any undue influence affected the trial.

months of the current fiscal year were $6,106,000 below estimates.

"Total collections to date total $401,544,000," the office said in its statement, "compared with the estimated total for the period of $407,740,000."

In his first news conference as chief executive, Gov. Scranton predicted a $32 million deficit for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

CLAIM CUBAN MISSILES NOT MENACE TO U.S.

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says "there are undoubtedly missiles in Cuba" but not of the type that would menace the United States.

"Based on the information available to me," he said, "I believe that there are no surface missiles in Cuba threatening this country today."

McNamara put his views on the record in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press as a congressional hue and cry rose over Soviet military strength on the island 90 miles from the American coast.

17,000 RED TROOPS
One issue of the controversy is just how many Soviet troops are in Cuba. President Kennedy has estimated 17,000. Some legislators have expressed belief there are many more.

McNamara would not be drawn into that question. He said he would rather not comment on the presence of Soviet troops or reports they seem to be digging in to stay.

But he declared that one reason for the maze of persistent reports on ballistic missiles in Cuba may be confusion over the various kinds of missiles that are there.

5 MISSILE TYPES
"The reports perhaps confuse ground-to-ground, intermediate-range ballistic missiles (a type the United States considers offensive) on the one hand with the other types of missiles which undoubtedly are stocked in Cuba," he said.

Of this latter category, McNamara ticked off five kinds:

- "1. Air defense missiles.
- "2. Air-to-air missiles used by fighters to attack other fighters.
- "3. Surface-to-sea missiles used for coastal defense purposes.
- "4. Missiles for coastal defense purposes fired from patrol-type boats.

SHORT RANGE USE
"5. Ground-to-ground missiles for short range use against troops in the field."

Said McNamara: "It is entirely probable that missiles of these classes exist in Cuba, and it seems probable that the reports... are based on that probability."

The missile issue was brought up again Monday by Rep. Donald C. Bruce, R-Ind.

He told the House he has information from friendly diplomats indicating that 40 or more Soviet intermediate-range missiles—capable of striking American cities—are still in Cuba. These, he said, are in addition to the 42 the Soviet said it put in Cuba and removed after the threatening days of the crisis.

The Defense Department swiftly disputed Bruce's contention, de-

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dr. Edward R. Annis, president-elect of the American Medical Association, says American doctors would react more violently against government control of their profession than their Canadian counterparts did last year.

Most of the estimated 700 physicians in Saskatchewan Province went on strike July 1 for 23 days in protest against the provincial government's new compulsory medical plan.

At a Nashville, Tenn., news conference, Annis called the Saskatchewan incident peace-time conscription. The Miami, Fla., surgeon said that the provincial government "locked the doctors out of the practice of private medicine."

Crown Prince Faisal, prime minister of Saudi Arabia, has installed three of his brothers in key posts, apparently another move to bring the oil-rich desert kingdom firmly under his control.

The appointments, announced by Mecca radio and heard in Damascus, Syria, appeared to weaken the position of Faisal's brother, King Saud, who has been under medical treatment in Switzerland.

Prince Abdullah was named commander of the National Guard. Prince Mashal becomes governor of the Mecca region and Prince Salman got the governorship of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia's capital. King Saud's sons had held the posts.

Kennedy Seeks To Lighten Mental Retardation Toll

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy urged Tuesday bold new programs he said would eventually free hundreds of thousands of mental patients from hospital beds and lighten the tragic toll of mental retardation.

The cost for the first year would be $31.35 million, but it might cost many millions more as the program accelerates.

His proposals were in a special message to Congress on mental health—the first such message sent to Capitol Hill by an American president.

Kennedy asked for an across-the-board legislative program for New community mental health centers, the centerpiece for bringing the mentally ill back to a useful life, and preventing new cases earlier.

PRENATAL CARE
More prenatal care for mothers-to-be to help insure their infants will not be doomed to mental retardation.

More child health care to detect and treat threatened cases earlier.

More trained personnel and facilities for training and rehabilitation of the mentally ill and retarded.

More research centers to get at the causes and, hopefully, the cures.

Specifically, the President intends to introduce four new bills, one of them not to be fully implemented until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1964.

That bill would encourage state or local governments or nonprofit groups to establish networks of community mental health centers. It would provide part of the construction costs and up to 75 percent of the staff costs for the first 15 months, decreasing thereafter for the rest of the four-year program. There is no price tag for this program.

It now costs the American taxpayer more than $2.4 billion a year for services to the mentally ill and retarded, the President said.

Within a decade or two, the President said, a broad, new mental health program can reduce by at least half the 600,000 hospitalized mental patients.

IT'S TOUGH FOR MUSICIANS TO GET TV LINES
NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time when audiences sought out entertainment, the figures beyond the footlights were judged—accepted and rejected—almost completely in terms of their talents.

But talent—as a singer, as a pianist—just isn't enough nowadays when the entertainment, via television, seeks the audiences.

"If a performer makes a successful record album or two, people become interested in seeing him," explained pianist Peter Nero. "But after they've seen him once, they can go back to playing his records."

DEVELOPS SIDELINE
Thus it has become necessary for singers and instrumentalists to add other strings to their bows. Nero, like many others, is developing a sideline of ice-breaking talk.

"Every musician wants to communicate through his music," the Brooklyn-born pianist said. "But if I can make people understand my music better by talking, I must certainly do it. I will not sacrifice artistic integrity—I'll talk, smile, kid around, but the music will be there."

The 28-year-old keyboard artist is kept busy with guest appearances on most of the top television variety shows. One of his worst problems is persuading writers to give him some lines.

NO CHANCE TO TALK
"The writers think musicians can't talk. Last season, I was on a Bob Newhart show, and was hoping to have a chance to exchange some remarks with Bob. So they had Bob come out with his drums and ask if I'd play with him. 'Love to, Bob,' I was to say. 'Exactly a year later, I was doing a George Gobel show, and he came out with his guitar and asked if I'd play with him. 'Love to, George,' was my line. That's about how it goes."

A Lovelier You

SHOE FINDINGS. Most men are more particular than most women about the appearance of their shoes. And this is an example of female perversity as ever was.

Well-tended footwear offers a woman extra value. There's beauty in it, as well as grooming. The feminine foot, of whatever shape or size, gains in attractiveness when encased in immaculate shoes. The sure way of putting your prettiest foot forward at all times is to use this check list of shoe groomers:

- Immediately after removal, insert trees, brush or polish surface and inspect toe tips and heels for signs of wear.
- Place shoes in need of repair in a spot that calls attention to that fact. If tips and heels run down after only a few wearings, ask your shoemaker about reinforcements. Should you find the clack of metal heels grating, investigate "soundproof" caps.
- Store shipshape footwear in bags or on racks—never on the floor.
- Occasionally, treat your entire shoe wardrobe to a thorough cleaning. Winter shoes are just about due for one. So scrub and shine those smooth leathers; brush and spray-clean suedes; to fabrics, apply a fluid cleaner made for the purpose. Also swab out the lot with a barely damp, lightly sudsed sponge. Plan to replace innersoles that won't come clean.
- When possible, rotate wearing. Rest does as much for your shoes as your looks!

Dean Rusk Travels In Shadow Of President

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ever since President Kennedy took office his secretary of state, Dean Rusk, has been an almost shadowy figure. Kennedy casts the shadow. Rusk makes the pronouncements. Rusk echoes them.

It's startling when his State Department—meaning Rusk—does something he says Kennedy didn't know about and, to boot, winds up in effect apologizing for it. This just happened with Canada.

Rusk took the responsibility for the embarrassment. If Kennedy took the responsibility it would be twice as embarrassing, and harder to explain.

DULL STATEMENT
Because so little is known of Rusk's behind-the-scenes role in making foreign policy—or how much Kennedy listens to him—it would be unfair to say he is a negative secretary or the opposite.

It can be said that his public statements, either on television or in news conferences, are usually dull and uninspired. Some newsmen have gone to sleep listening to them. Try concentrating on his words some time if you're watching television.

The dullness is in his accumulated generalities or his repetitions of what is already known about the administration's position on some phase of foreign policy or on some American policy position established long before Kennedy.

RUSK IN ACTION
Some typical examples of Rusk in action:

It is important to continue talks with the Soviets about Berlin "to see if we can't find some way to manage that problem without a crisis." When he said that last November it was already old stuff.

In short, when Rusk rubs two sticks together he doesn't make a fire.

Since Kennedy promised to be a take-charge president, and dominates his entire administration anyway, it's no surprise that Rusk has been in the background, looking more like a foreign policy technician than a creator.

But Kennedy would have had an inducement anyway to boss the show after watching President Eisenhower for years get criticized for letting his secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, a very self-asserting man, dominate foreign policy.

There was no middleman between Eisenhower and Dulles, no middleman to make life a little more difficult for the secretary or even frustrating him. Whether Rusk has to contend with one isn't clear.

TRUSTED ASSISTANT
McGeorge Bundy, former Harvard dean, is Kennedy's highly trusted special assistant on national security affairs. It can't be said precisely how much part he has in making foreign policy or whether Kennedy listens to him more than to Rusk.

Last week the State Department publicly criticized the Canadian government of Prime Minister Diefenbaker for not doing enough to defend North America. This country wants Canada to put nuclear tips on Canada's main weapons.

Diefenbaker bawled out Americans for interfering in Canadians' business. Rusk apologized. He said no offense was meant. This was odd and can be looked at from a couple of directions:

1. That the State Department fumbled in the use of language although it had plenty of time to figure out the effect of each word it used and what the Canadian reaction might be.

2. Or Rusk was so anxious to get the Canadians moving that he was willing to risk Diefenbaker's wrath, since he could always explain his intention was good if the wording wasn't.

Rusk got action but it's too soon to say he'll get the result he sought.

17 JAPANESE ARE KILLED IN SNOW SLIDES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow slides killed 17 Japanese Tuesday raising the death toll to at least 110 in Japan's worst winter in years.

At least 12 more persons were reported to have died in the arctic freeze gripping Western Europe, bringing the unofficial toll there to 353.

Wolves were reported invading France for the first time in nine years. Elephants in an English zoo were given rum to keep them alive.

In Tokyo, national police said 12 Japanese are missing and 143 others have been injured in the blizzards that have lasted nearly a month.

DIG OUT TRUCKS
Snow piled high on the hills started crumbling in various parts of the snow-stricken areas along Japan's northwest coast.

Some 12,000 troops and thousands of workers were digging out railway tracks but the National Railway Administration said it did not expect to restore long-distance traffic in the area for several days.

Weathermen predicted that the worst of Japan's snowfall was over but said warmer weather was expected and would precipitate more avalanches.

In Paris, experts said wolves, driven by the cold from the mountains of Poland and Czechoslovakia, are traveling west at a rate of 60 miles a day. One was killed in eastern France and others were reported sighted.

BUZZARDS ATTACK
Buzzards attacked people in eastern France. Wild dogs killed 27 sheep and 12 lambs near Rodez, only 80 miles from France's Mediterranean coast.

Soldiers and police struggled to clear Austrian roads, made impassable by avalanches.

A thaw brought floods in Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

A huge slide of rain-loosened earth buried the 45 buildings in the Greek village of Starna, but police shots warned the 350 residents and all fled to safety, driving their livestock with them.

NEW HIGHWAYS NEED PLANNING

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A state official has warned that bad planning could wreck the economic development of land near interchanges to be built for the new federal highways system in Pennsylvania.

Henry D. Harral, secretary of highways, issued the warning Monday in an address before the 41st annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors.

Harral said interchanges offer opportunities for industrial, commercial and residential growth and added:

"These developments, however, must be guided by clear and effective land-use policies. Otherwise, the results might end in chaos, stunting the development potential of the areas and could jeopardize the tremendous investment being made in the interstate system."

Some 1,500 delegates are attending the three-day convention.

TWO FOR THE HOSPITAL
CHATTANOOGA (AP)—S. J. (Pete) Weitzel rode an ambulance as a white-coated attendant on the way to pick up a sick woman and take her to the hospital. He made the return trip as a patient.

Weitzel slipped while carrying the ambulance cot, fell down and fractured a hip.

33 Taking C-D Course At Bendersville; 3 Families Building Home Shelters

There is only one public air raid shelter in the borough of Bendersville but three families there have shelters under construction in their homes as a result of the Civil Defense class which started last month at the Bendersville Elementary School.

It is likely, says Wilson D. Wenk, instructor for the course, that before the six-week course ends late this month more family shelters will be underway in that community.

The course is being offered Monday and Wednesday evenings under the tutelage of Mr. Wenk, who holds a certificate from Civil Defense and from the State Department of Public Instruction as an instructor on the basis of 15 hours of training he took last fall at Biglerville.

URGE FAMILY SHELTERS

Family shelters are one of the protection steps recommended in the Civil Defense training taught in the class sessions.

The course covers the need for Civil Defense, the Civil Defense Act, effects of nuclear weapons, protection from those effects, radiation, and its biological effects, local, state and national warning systems, decontamination, shelter stockpiling, radiological defense, biological and chemical warfare, general first aid, psychological reaction to disaster, fire protection and individual and family preparedness.

Thirty-three are attending the classes regularly. A class is held for two hours each Monday evening and is repeated for another group each Wednesday evening.

TO ISSUE CERTIFICATES

The two-class schedule was set up when an original 54 enrolled for the course but the training sessions got off to a snowy start on January 23 and attendance tumbled. A make-up session is planned to take care of those unable to reach the classroom on that first night.

Those who attend regularly throughout the 12-hour course will qualify for a certificate from the state Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. Wenk said that interested persons may sit in on the remaining sessions of the course but cannot qualify for certificates.

"VERY ENTHUSIASTIC"

The Parent-Teacher Association of Bendersville helped promote the enrollment for the course which is being taken by both men and women.

Mr. Wenk said that, if there is sufficient demand, the course can be repeated to another group in the spring.

The community's only public air raid shelter is in the elementary school building where the classes are being held. Only a comparatively small space is available there and Civil Defense authorities are encouraged by the interest in establishing family shelters in Bendersville homes that the course has generated.

"Most members of the class are very enthusiastic about the information the course offers," Mr. Wenk said.

UPPER SCOUTS PLAN PROGRAM FOR B.S. WEEK

Gardners - Aspers Boy Scout Troop 75 is planning a "live display" as part of its observance of Boy Scout Week, February 7-14.

Members of the unit will camp out on the lawn of the Aspers Fire Co. Friday night. On Saturday they will prepare a meal to be served to the public at the fire house free of charge between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. The Scouts have invited all residents of the upper end of the county to visit with them and take part in the meal.

Scoutmaster Merl Eisenhart has announced that Assistant Scoutmasters Paul Arnsberger, Robert Griffith and Robert Warnefeltz will be in charge of the campout and meal program at Aspers. Senior Patrol Leader Philip Culp will head the Scouts.

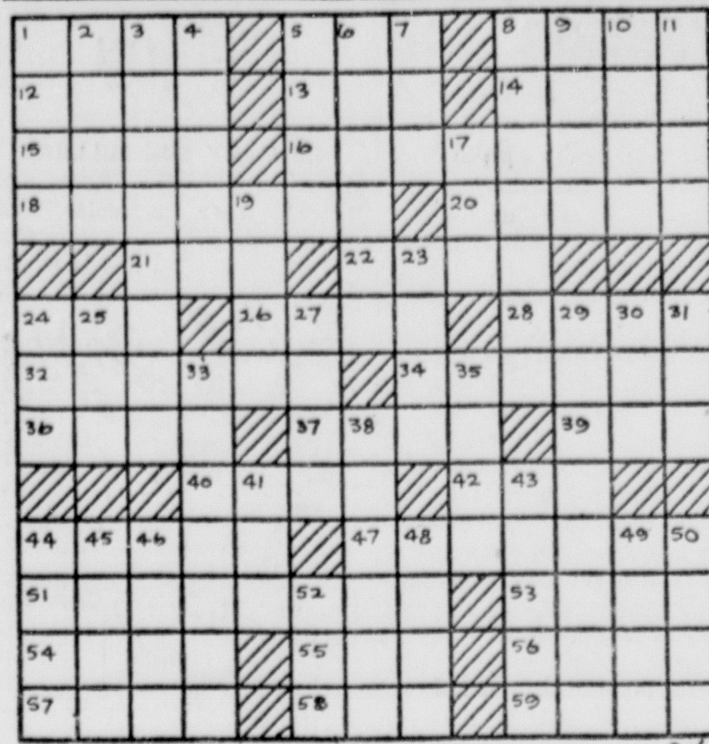

Explorer Post 75 at the same time will have its Boy Scout Week display in Motter's Store, Gardners. Explorer Advisor Robert Eisenhart and Bruce Slonaker, president of the Explorer Post, will supervise the erection of the display.

Saturday evening all Scouts and Explorers and their families and members of the Aspers Cub Pack will join in a Scout Week banquet at the Aspers Fire Hall. The mothers auxiliary of the troop and post will sponsor the banquet. Guests will include Ray Weigand, York-Adams Area Council Chief Scout Executive; Stanley C. Rogers, Gettysburg, field executive for the Black Walnut District and Dr. Richard Greenholt, in charge of Exploring in the Black Walnut District.

Also as part of the Scout Week activities the Scouts and Explorers, their parents and leaders will attend Sunday School and the worship service at the Idaville United Brethren Church Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

At a recent meeting the troop was presented with a 7 by 9 American flag by Mrs. Barbara Baugher. Scoutmaster Eisenhart has announced that the troop will hike to Pole Steeple, near Laurel Lake, on Saturday, February 16. Each of the five patrols in the troop will camp out at Camp Wolf Pit, near Aspers, on various weekends the latter part of February and during March. On Wednesday night, March 13, the Scouts and Explorers, along with several parents and leaders, will attend a hockey game at Hershey. The Explorer Scouts are planning a trip to a hunting camp in Potter County the last weekend in February.

Inspections by the State Department of Agriculture during the week December 17-22 of Pennsylvania apples for export set a new high record for that period, State Secretary of Agriculture Leland H. Bull said today.

Apple inspections by the department's Bureau of Markets personnel totaled 27,265 boxes. Most of these were destined for European countries. Some went to South America.

In addition, the state inspectors checked out 4,750 hundredweight of potatoes, practically all of which went to the Caribbean area.

Of the apple varieties in the export trade, Rome led, followed by Golden Delicious and Red Delicious, with some Stayman and Yorks also.

SCIENCE CAN SPEED WORDS OF DIPLOMATS

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — When ever Dean Rusk, the secretary of state, has something urgent to tell to David Bruce, the U.S. ambassador to Britain, he can pick up the telephone and talk to the diplomat in London in seconds.

When the White House or the State Department has a message, coded or uncoded, for the embassy in London, it can send it by direct teletype.

This is what the Kennedy administration wants to achieve in its communications with the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

MOSCOW MESSAGES

Presently Rusk can do two things if he wants to send word to Foy D. Kohler, ambassador to Moscow. He may put through a long distance call—just as anyone else does who has some business in the Soviet capital, or he can send a coded cable through commercial channels. Once in Moscow, it may or may not be delivered promptly.

The problem of better communications with U.S. diplomatic missions around the world, and especially with Moscow, became an urgent issue during last fall's Cuban crisis when so much depended on fast and accurate exchanges with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

HAD SIMPLER PLAN

President Kennedy said at a recent news conference "speed is very desirable, so we are hoping we can get instantaneous communication" with Moscow.

There was immediate speculation that Kennedy had in mind a special telephone, a direct line between the White House and the Kremlin.

Nothing so dramatic was considered. Khrushchev does not speak English, and Kennedy does not speak Russian.

What Kennedy had in mind was much simpler: to send a message to Khrushchev—or, for that matter, to any other head of government—through normal diplomatic channels, but with a speed worthy of the nuclear age.

After the Cuban crisis Kennedy and Rusk gave orders that the State Department, together with other agencies, study what should be done to improve the situation.

HUSH-HUSH OPERATIONS

The study—a hush-hush operation—is still going on. William H. Orrick Jr., deputy undersecretary of state for administration, is in charge. A group of communications experts from government agencies and private industry meets regularly behind doors guarded by Marines.

The United States made two suggestions to the Soviet Union. It proposed that the State Department be permitted to have a direct commercial leased wire to its Moscow embassy, and secondly, that the embassy be permitted to operate a radio transmitter.

Moscow has given no answer yet.

Seven pitchers have won the Babe Ruth Award since the New York Baseball Writers Association first honored a World Series hero 14 years ago. The pitchers are Joe Page, Johnny Podres, Don Larsen, Lew Burdette, Larry Sherry, Whitey Ford and Ralph Terry.

STOKOWSKI IS STILL BOOSTER OF MUSICIANS

By MILES A. SMITH

Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—At 75, Maestro Leopold Stokowski still carries a musical banner for youth and its future hopes.

Still tremendously busy—building another orchestra, making guest appearances with the Philadelphia Orchestra and others, reading manuscript scores that pour into his studio overlooking Central Park—the man who once formed an All American Youth Orchestra manages to find time to give encouragement to young musicians.

50TH SEASON

Friday, he will be back in Philadelphia for an anniversary concert, commemorating the 50th season since he made his debut there.

But in answering an interviewer's questions about the anniversary, he soon turned the subject aside.

"I would rather talk about the future," he said. "The past is something we no longer can do anything about."

He began talking about the American Symphony, which under his leadership began giving concerts last fall.

"One-third of our players are the most talented youth from the great music schools of New York, Boston, Rochester, Philadelphia and Baltimore—young people with tremendous talent," he said.

"For the remaining two-thirds we have the great, experienced free-lance players of New York, whom I know personally from making records for years."

"The young players learn from the experienced players, and the latter gain from the enthusiasm and vitality of the young people."

In connection with this project, he continually auditions young singers, young players and young conductors. Nor are young composers neglected.

WINS DISPUTE WITH POLICE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Sen. John J. Haluska had a close call with the police Tuesday.

The Cambria County Democrat said he was stopped for alleged speeding on Route 22 near Blairsville but got a bawling out and no ticket.

Haluska, who was enroute to Pittsburgh to address a convention of the State Association of Township Supervisors, recounted the incident before the delegates, saying:

"I told the state policeman he was wrong. The policeman claimed I was going 65 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone. I told him he was wrong. I told him I was only going 62."

The senator said the law allows a five-mile-an-hour tolerance above the speed limit, adding, "I was able to convince the officer that I was going 62, well within the five-mile tolerance."

Would Require Snow Removal

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, is making another legislative effort to require the highways department to clear snow from state highways in Chester.

His bill (S103), introduced Tuesday, also would apply to the other 47 third class cities which include the largest communities in the commonwealth outside of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton.

Bell has introduced similar legislation in past sessions.
